DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the abstract is not limited to a single paragraph and contains reference numerals not contained in parenthesis. Correction is required.

See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The specification contains numerous typographical, spelling, and grammatical errors. Example, pg. 7, second paragraph..... "stentgraf" should be "stentgraft".

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite in that it fails to point out what is included or excluded by the claim language. This claim is an omnibus type claim.

Claims 1 and 2 are omnibus claims. The claims are devoid of structure, see MPEP 2173.05 (r).

Claim 3 recites the limitation "the inner shape information" in the body of the claim. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim because the inner shape information is not positively claimed in the preamble of the claimed. Claim 3 also recites the limitation "the master". There is insufficient antecedent support for this limitation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or

(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Castaneda (USPN 6,395,018).

Claim 3, with regards to method of manufacturing a stent with matching inner shape of tubular body tissue, to obtaining inner shape information by mechanical model, making a master in accordance with shape-information, and performing shape memorization in a manner corresponding to the master, see col. 12, lines 49+ of Castaneda.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Using tomography to custom design and manufacture stent/grafts and other prosthesis is well known in the art, the following patents support the use of tomography to produce a prosthesis; Tanner et al (USPN 6,371,919) and Prince (USPN 6,230,041).
